

Emergency and Winter Dog Care Check List

In the case an emergency arises, you don't want to be caught in a situation that your four legged loved ones are not prepared for. There are a lot of list for emergency preparedness for people, so we wanted to share one for your favorite pets.

- Extra Food for 1 month - even if the power is out and the roads are closed, Max will still be hungry
- Extra water that will not freeze and is potable. About a gallon a day.
- 1 Month of Medications. Your vet will guide you.
- Extra Blankets or Bedding - incase it gets cold
- GoGo Stik and bags (any size bag will do) to collect pet waste when going outside is not an option.
- A Few New Toys - and a few favorite toys to comfort and entertain your furry friend.
- Doggie First Aid Supplies - See other side of checklist.
- A Thunder Jacket - if your dog get anxious or scared by storms, it may be good to have on hand.
- Extra Treats - because who doesn't like extra treats?!
- Peroxide - Keep it on hand to clean wounds and a capful will induce vomiting if your dog gets into your emergency chocolate supply.
- Self Adhering Bandage Wrap - like the kind used by the Red Cross at blood drives. This will allow you to wrap an odd angle wound without sticking to any fur and causing further discomfit. This can be found at most Dollar Stores.
- Ouch Free Pain and First Aid Spray - yes they make it for dogs too! You can find it at most pet supply stores.
- Instant Ice and Heat Packs - Those silly puppies get hurt at the worst of times. Having a couple of these on hand can make the healing process much more comfortable.
